Maria Parham Health opens new multispecialty clinic in Louisburg

Open seven days a week for your convenience.

Henderson, NC (January 8, 2019) – Maria Parham Health has opened a new multispecialty physicians clinic in Louisburg to provide more access to medical care for the residents of Franklin County and the surrounding communities. Maria Parham Multispecialty Clinic provides a rotation of specialty care that currently includes primary care, general surgery, physiatry, nephrology and orthopaedics. For added convenience, the clinic will offer primary care seven days a week.

"Our new Clinic will allow us to better meet the growing demand in Franklin County by bringing more specialty care to the community," said Bert Beard, Chief Executive Officer at Maria Parham Health. "It is important to be able to offer patients and local businesses access to quality medical care in their own community and we are excited to expand access to specialty care in Louisburg."

Maria Parham Multispecialty Clinic is conveniently located in the medical office building adjacent to Maria Parham Franklin so new and existing patients can see physicians in five medical specialties with the added convenience of having additional clinical services located right next door. "Our goal is to not only expand access to health care in Franklin County, but to also make it a convenient process for our patients," stated Beard. "Patients can see a primary care provider or specialist at our multispecialty clinic and step right next door to Maria Parham Franklin for lab work or imaging needs. We want to make it easy for people to get the health care they need."
